

A Learning Disabilities Primer

Instructor: Madeline McDougal

Please print and save all course requirements

Class Policies

Attendance

1. All participants must log in at least three times per week and post the number of times required for each assignment
2. As discussion is key to the course, be sure to take advantage of becoming involved as much as possible
3. Please print and save all course requirements, so you are aware of course expectations

Academic Integrity:

1. All participants must submit original work; when necessary please cite information
2. All participants must observe proper netiquette to ensure that the learning community participates in constructive dialog. Please review the following link (www.onlinenetiquette.com)
3. For all projects, participants are expected to collaborate and be responsible for their share of the work. .

An Individual grade and a group grade will be given for all group projects.

Lateness

1. All assignments must be submitted by 11:59:59 P.M. of the due date.
2. Late assignments should be posted in the late assignment thread (“Better late than never”)
3. There is a mandatory point loss for all late assignments.
4. No assignment will be accepted that is more than one week late.
5. Please read class schedule and assignment due dates to determine if you will be able to meet all assignments and posting requirements.

Technical support:

Please report any technical problems immediately. I will direct you to support.

Recommendation for in-service credit.

This is a 15-hour in-service course.

1. Satisfactory completion of course work requires all assignments completed, participation in asynchronous and synchronous discussion, collaboration of projects, and posting of responses.
2. In-service hours recommended will be directly associated with outcomes of the course.

Please take into consideration that this course is about meeting individual needs. Therefore, I am available for any concerns or questions about the course work. Please e-mail directly with any questions. (maded@aol.com)

I will touch base with any student who appears to have difficulty or is not participating in discussion.

