“How the children turn out will depend on what we put into the effort.” – Educator Lottie Taylor

The statement can apply to adults, as well as children! Active participation is vital in the success of this course, for both the student and the teacher. If we are to build an active and cooperative online community, you are expected to participate individually, through timely responses to assignments and postings in discussion areas.

Furthermore, as the course proceeds, you may be assigned to a group. Interaction within your group is fully expected, as well. Although we can't “see” each other, we will work cooperatively in developing ideas and building responses. I'm looking forward to hearing what you have to say, and, hopefully, so will your group! Rubrics have been made available for you to assist in self-evaluation as we work together.

In summation, permit me to modify Lottie Taylor's statement ...

“How the course turns out will depend on what we put into the effort.”
